Student Name: _____ Student ID: _____ Degree Program: _____
Effective Term (circle one): Summer '23 / Fall '23 / Spring '24

Resolve academic suspension before appealing Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP).

Instructions for the appeal process:

Step 1: Type a letter explaining what barriers hindered you from meeting SAP. The letter should address each semester in which you had grades of W, F, or NC, or in which you did not earn a minimum GPA of 2.0 (2.85 for graduate students). For each of those semesters, include dates related to barriers listed and explain how the situation has changed so you may now be successful. The letter should not exceed 2 pages single spaced using an 11 point font.

Dropping classes because of a bad grade and/or changing majors are not barriers. Incomplete grades, withdrawals, and grades of 'NC' count the same as an 'F' in a class for the quantitative requirement. Neither paying for one's classes nor sitting out for a semester will re-establish your SAP.

Step 2: Include documentation to support your letter of appeal. Examples of documentation: physician statement, death certificate, obituary, court documents, or letters from involved third parties such as doctors or therapists, counselors, attorneys, or employers.

Step 3: Complete this page by signing and dating the Student Certification section and submit it to the Office of Financial Aid along with your letter of appeal and required documentation. Include your full name and UA ID on each page. It is your responsibility to ensure all required appeal paperwork has been submitted to the Office of Financial Aid. Please submit your appeal at the address, fax number, or secure upload listed in the letterhead information above. Emailed documents will not be accepted.

Step 4: Provide a copy of your appeal letter along with the enclosed Dean's Statement form to Dean's Office of your college. Request the form to be completed and signed by the Dean. The college will submit the Dean's Statement directly to the Office of Financial Aid.

The committee's appeal decision will be sent to your university email address. If an appeal is granted, you will need to meet with a financial aid counselor and know your expected term of degree completion to complete your SAP academic plan before aid can be awarded.

The decision of the committee is final. Re-appeals may be requested if new information or documentation were omitted from the initial appeal.

All appeal documents must be received before the last committee meeting in the semester for which you are appealing in order for the appeal to be reviewed by the committee.

STUDENT CERTIFICATION:

I certify that all of the information on this form and any attached supporting documents are true, complete, and accurate to the best of my knowledge. I further understand that any false statements or misrepresentation will be cause for denial, reduction, withdrawal, and/or repayment of any financial aid received, may subject me to a fine, imprisonment, or both, under the provisions of the United States Criminal Code. By signing, I certify that I understand that the Committee's decision is final for the academic year for which I am appealing. Also, I understand the progress policy on the back of this page and realize I must be making academic progress after this year to receive future aid.

POLICY FOR FINANCIAL AID APPLICANTS REGARDING SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

To receive Title IV aid, federal regulation requires that a student must be making satisfactory academic progress (SAP). All students enrolled at the University of Arkansas who receive financial aid through the Title IV Assistance Programs must meet the following SAP requirements. Satisfactory academic progress is deemed to have been made by any undergraduate student who meets both the quantitative and qualitative requirements indicated below.

QUANTITATIVE REQUIREMENTS

There are two quantitative requirements to remain eligible to apply for federal financial assistance. First, the student must successfully complete and earn credit from, at a minimum, 66.66% of the credits attempted while attending the university. For the purpose of the 66.66% rule, grades of 'W', 'I', 'F', 'XF', and 'NC' are not considered passing grades. The completion percentage is truncated after the first decimal place and rounded to the nearest whole number. Secondly, the student will remain eligible to apply for federal student aid as long as the number of credits attempted is not more than 150% of the number of credits required for the student's published primary degree plan. Courses that have been forgiven or excluded through academic bankruptcy, grade forgiveness, grade exclusion, or other means will be included in the quantitative calculations for SAP purposes as credit hours that have been attempted but not successfully completed.

A student may have earned credits at another school that will count toward his or her degree at the University of Arkansas. Class credits transferred to the University of Arkansas and classes taken for remediation at the University of Arkansas are used in both the 66.66% and 150% calculation.

The determination of each student's meeting the quantitative requirements for satisfactory academic progress will be made annually following the conclusion of the spring semester. If a student fails to pass at least 66.66% of the credits attempted or has attempted more than 150% of the number of credits required for graduation, the student must appeal for reinstatement of financial aid eligibility.

QUALITATIVE REQUIREMENTS

The qualitative requirement for satisfactory academic progress for financial aid requires a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or greater as calculated for all courses attempted at University of Arkansas for a student's current academic career. Grades that have been excluded from the GPA on record with the Registrar's Office through academic bankruptcy, grade forgiveness, grade exclusion, or other means will be included in the GPA calculation for SAP purposes per federal regulation. Academic work transferred from other schools does not affect University of Arkansas GPA per University policy.

By default, students who have only earned grades of 'W', 'PD', 'CR', 'R', 'P', or 'NC' will pass the qualitative requirement. The determination of each student's meeting the qualitative requirement for satisfactory academic progress will be made annually following the conclusion of the spring semester.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT SAP CALCULATIONS

Dual majors and degrees are calculated at 150% of the total unit requirements of the primary plan. Changing of major will mean future SAP calculations will use the new primary plan or degree but all previous completed and attempted hours will still be used in SAP calculations. All transfer hours will add into calculations as completed and attempted. Once an undergraduate degree is earned, students are only eligible for direct loans whether the degree is indicated by graduation or not. For second degrees, the calculation will monitor progress from the date of the previous degree (excluding technical certificates and associate degrees).

GRADUATE AND LAW STUDENTS

Satisfactory academic progress for graduate and law students is determined as described above with two exceptions. 1.) In order for course credits to be counted as part of the completion percentage for the 66.66% requirement, graduate and law students must pass each course with a grade of C or better while attending the university at the graduate level. 2.) In order to meet the qualitative requirement, graduate students must have a cumulative GPA of 2.85 or higher at the time of evaluation.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC POLICY APPEALS

When a student loses federal aid eligibility because they failed to make satisfactory progress, they may appeal because of their injury or illness, the death of a relative, or other special circumstances. Their appeal must explain why they failed to make satisfactory progress and what has changed in their situation that will allow them to make satisfactory progress at the next evaluation. The only way to regain aid eligibility without a successful SAP appeal is by meeting the SAP criteria above.

The effective date of this policy is May 2023. Revised June 2011, May 2015, May 2020, May 2022, and May 2023.
